Be Sure You're Smart

Then go ahead—anywhere. If you really feel that there should be some sort of motto in the best regulated families, take this newest heading from Paris. Because, fortunately, one thing remains frivolously true, woman proposes and Paris disposes. And whether or not you'll be smart depends more or less upon just how strictly you live up to the ten thousand Parisian commandments.

The Very First Aid

to any autumn wardrobe is a suit or, literally, suits. Just made for every possible occasion, a suit can be your almost constant companion. Some of them go shopping; some, of a lighter turn of mind, prefer teas and matinees; some believe that sports are the only things worth being born for.

Via Paris Letters

Our Paris representatives, busily wandering through those bright and giddy salons, have hurried back some fluttering authentic notes on this subject nearest and dearest to a woman's wardrobe.

Versatility

That's the better nature of these garments always. Believing that variety is the spice of suits, Paris has wrinkled its temperamental brow and filled the world with a number of things. One house has decided upon the long Russian blouse as the distinctive style of its jackets, closing them down the side from the shoulder to the lower edge.

The Eternal East

has glittered down on this same house, where coats and dresses as well as suits prove that Persia and the Far East have inspired many of the astonishing and wonderful modish designs to win lots of feminine hearts somewhere behind the Manhattan sky line.

Another Thing

we have learned is a bit of gossip about sapphire blue. There just had to be some, heaven knows. This radiant color has become socially prominent in elaborate suits and wraps of broad and seck lines of silver or copper. It is also used alone in chiffon velvet.

A B'g Sigh

You just can't crowd all the buy-me-across news into a single little column. Even the column grows breathless. But we know more—letters and letters more. Wait and see.

Better Still,
Come and See

Congress Is Told Japanese Violate Immigration Rule

Pacific Coast Business Men Urge Absolute Exclusion and Deportation of All Asiaties Now in Country

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Japan is violating the immigration barriers to this country intended to be raised by the so-called gentlemen's agreement. V. S. McClatchy, of Sacramento, Cal., and Miller Freeman, of Seattle, Wash., today told the House Immigration Committee. They urged adoption of a policy of absolute exclusion by the United States, and the deportation of Asiatics already in this country. The committee is considering immigration legislation and the witnesses appeared to oppose particularly the admission of Asiatics on a mathematical scale based on those already here.

Mr. McClatchy declared the situation on the Pacific Coast was only an example of what would happen elsewhere, "finally resulting in the United States being made a Japanese province."

"The question is purely an economic one, not a racial one," declared Mr. McClatchy, who assailed the making of the gentlemen's agreement as "a serious blunder."

Both witnesses asserted that the white race was hopelessly unable to contend with Japanese economic competition.

"The Japanese government is issuing passports under any head except labor," asserted Mr. Freeman. "The only way of solving the problem is by legislation; it cannot be solved by administration of existing laws."

Mr. McClatchy said a policy of absolute exclusion of the Japanese because of their economic standards would only be practicing a policy enforced by the Japanese in their own country against the Chinese and Koreans.

In order that the country might be advised of the Japanese problem, the witness urged the committee to send a sub-committee to the Pacific Coast to make an exhaustive inquiry.

Japanese immigrants entering at Seattle for the year ended last June numbered 5,170, of whom 1,862 were women, Mr. Freeman said, while Mr. McClatchy said the total number of these immigrants on the Pacific Coast was about ten thousand for the year. The women were brought for "breeding purposes," Mr. Freeman asserted, adding that the children born in this country were entitled to even property.

Investigation of the Yokohama Bank, at Seattle, was urged by Mr. Freeman, who contended that the Japanese imperial family owned the majority stock. During the war, Mr. Freeman said, the Japanese found the door to the United States wide open. Their colonization during that time had gone on so quietly, he declared, that even the people of the Northwest "did not realize the gravity of it."

"Returning soldiers find the door of opportunity closed to them by this alien race," he declared.

Proposed legislation for the admission of Japanese on a percentage basis was criticized by Mr. McClatchy, who said its enactment would "mean the collapse of the American Republic."

The plan, he explained, would permit the entry of 2,500 Japanese in 1919, 1920 and 1921, 7,500 in 1922, 12,500 in 1923, with a steady increase thereafter under a percentage plan.

"In forty years from 1923," declared Mr. McClatchy, "the Japanese population of the United States under the operation of the Gullik plan will be, in round figures, 2,000,000, in eighty years 10,000,000, in 140 years 100,000,000."

Ship Believed To Be Lost;

Valbarena Sinks in Quicksand

KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 25.—The wreck of the large steamer near here which divers a few days ago identified as the Spanish passenger liner Valbarena, believed to have been sunk in the recent gulf hurricane with 488 persons on board, gradually sinking into the quicksands on the shoals on which it was driven, it was reported today.

It was said the hull of the steamer might soon disappear and thereby perhaps remove the last possibility of clearing up another mystery of the sea.
